The Best is Still To Come

Toes in the sand; Mind engaged

Coaches Corner

Wow – can you believe it is October already? Where did 2022 go?

If you are like us, we set lofty goals for 2022 but were derailed by life. Life – that four-letter word seemly ubiquitous. Sometimes a tremendous four-letter word, sometimes an awful four-letter word.

This year was rough for us, and our coaching and freelancing businesses took a back seat to LIFE. Patty started the year with severe sciatica pain that literally and figuratively was a pain in the butt! Robert had to give her pain shots in the butt for seven days, starting twice on two separate occasions. Our Panamanian doctor was excellent coming out to the house during the second bout as Patty couldn't get out of bed.

Some good things that happened this year, Patty and Robert did manage to get out for an eleventh wedding anniversary celebration on December 31 (the anniversary is January 1). And we spent ten days in March in Florida visiting our adult children and grandchildren! Patty was determined to beat the second bout of sciatica to enjoy this vacation! It shows you when you set your mind to succeed – YOU WILL FIND SUCCESS!

The Path to your Ultimate Freelancing Career

We will be releasing this course for the new year! You can look for this on our website when it is available. Of course, we will alert you on this newsletter as well. Courses and workshops take much time to create, and we still have our coaching business and that thing called LIFE that keeps derailing us! But our goal is to have this ready for the New Year!

Puppy Update

Blanca is growing!! (see side picture) Blanca is ten months old now, weighs forty pounds, and is all muscle! She is extremely smart, sometimes too much for her own good. Patty was apprehensive about her and Kalik getting along, but Robert wasn't. As you can see from the picture below, they are warming up!

They really do love each other ... most of the time!! We are both hopeful that Kalik will soon love Blanca as much as he loves Bailey.

Bailey had surgery to remove a fatty cyst. Poor guy was through a lot this year. First, the pitbull attack in April and then surgery for the fatty cyst. But Baily is a survivor and Kalik is always by his side!

Do you know how difficult it is to get all three of them to cooperate for a photo??? Maybe we can get one for our December newsletter. One can dream, right?

Until next month – Happy Halloween, and most of all – Happy Freelancing!

We hope to see you at our workshop on October 22!
